

Norbert Buzas

Norbert Buzás is a board member of ValDeal Innovation Ltd., the largest Hungarian business incubation service provider and professor associate at the University of Szeged. He received his PhD (chemistry) and MSc (physics, environmental management) from the University of Szeged (Szeged, Hungary) and MBA from the Newport International University (Laramie, USA). Norbert Buzás started his career as research fellow working at the University of Szeged, Technical University of Vienna, VUB University of Brussels and the University of Palermo. He has served as intellectual property director of a biotech company and techtransfer officer of the largest Hungarian university. Dr. Buzás has more than 50 papers published in scientific journals and he is the author of two books and four university textbooks.

